Jackson, surely you can't be serious!

I've invested everything into this company - EVERYTHING! It took all that I had to keep us afloat while you went through your 'creative block' or whatever you want to call it. I put everything on the line for what we built here. The least you could do is extend your friend and business partner of 6 years a little helping hand.

Heck - you'd be helping yourself too! I don't understand why you won't just sign off on the military contract. Are you upset about Diana? I heard about the divorce attorney. Come on man! Leave your personal life out of this.

You're shooting yourself in the foot here bud - and you're burning a friend while you're at it.

I won't let this company sink, you hear me?
